Halloween Origins Traced by Madsen

Shih and Pace in Run-off, Peace Tops Vietnam Poll

By STEVE PLEVIN

EG Reporter

Dr. William Madsen, local authority on the occult, granted an interview to EL GAUCHO today while in preparation for his annual Halloween message to all believers.

Dr. Madsen, seated in his skull-shaped chair, commented that Halloween goes all the way back to the ancient Egyptians who celebrated it (as we do now) between the winter and spring solstices. The Egyptians believed that the dead return on this day and roam the earth. (Dr. Madsen stated that this, of course, is true.)

A festival was held during which food offerings were made to these spirits. This practice was picked up by other Mediterranean cultures and finally reached Rome. With the advent of Christianity, the holiday became known as All Souls or All Saints Day.

In Spain, Mexico, and the Philippines, women go to the cemetery with candles and food offerings to leave on the graves. Most peasants have made this University a place of higher learning, to develop our minds so that we can truly benefit man.

Pick A Public Enemy

Who would you say is Public Enemy Number One? Mao Tse-tung? Donn Bernstain? Lyndon Johnson? Art Gilligan? Who's your man? Just to prove that it's not EL GAUCHO (now there's a likely candidate), we're running a fund-raising drive for Camp Conestoga, jointly administered by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Votes cost a penny apiece, 30 for a quarter and 150 for a dollar. Put your money in one box and a piece of paper with your vote in the one next to it, and not only will you have supported Camp Conestoga, UCSB's official charity, but you will have brought some deserving soul a smile.

Although garnering a 262 vote plurality, Tony Shih will face R. George Pace III in a run-off election for Rep-at-Large tomorrow.

Fresh Presidential candidate Bruce Tognotti and Pat Cunningham will also vie in the run-off.

Shih received 32% of the votes to Pace's 24%, but strong showings by Nick Rashman (20%) and Jeff Herman (19%) kept him from running up the required majority.

In the Vietnam poll, the two "peace" proposals won resounding victories:

Withdrawal and negotiation-5%

Immediate withdrawal-17%

Military Escalation-17%

Johnson's Policy-11%

OTHER OFFICES

Other elected were Joe Ryan convincingly for Fresh Vice-President, Roneta Bede for Fresh Treasurer, and Fred Munch, who was unopposed for Men's Independent Rep, the only Leg Council seat besides Rep-at-Large which was at stake in this polling.

Munch won the same position last year, but was disqualified by Constitutional Judicial Committee for running in the wrong constituency.

Wednesday's election will be held at the same places upstairs, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

WORLD WIRE

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) - An army spokesman announced an is­raeli jet fighter was shot down today in the first aerial clash between Syria and Israel since the June Middle East war.

In a brief communiqué the spokesman said four Israeli planes penetrated Syrian air space, and Syrian jet fighters shot down one of them in an aerial battle which lasted a few minutes. The Syrian planes returned safely to base, it said.

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Levi Eshkol declared today Israel is digging in on its new frontiers and indicated that it is going to hold on to most of the Arab territory it seized in the Middle East war June 6-10.

The prime minister said Israel will not permit the restora­tion of the situation prior to June 5th, on Syria's Golan Heights. "Nor will the situation in Sinai, the Gulf of Suez and on the Suez Canal be restored to what it was," he declared.

"Israel will continue to maintain in full the situation as it was established in the cease-fire agreements and will consolidate her position in keeping with the vital needs of her security and development," because of what he called the Arabs' refusal to negotiate peace.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Statements about marijuana by the federal food and drug commissioner, Dr. James L. Goddard, have prompted three House Republicans to call for a congressional review of narcotic control laws and their administration.

The three, all members of a House Government Operations subcommittee, said Goddard's statements "could have the effect of encouraging increased use of marijuana in violation of existing law.

STOCKHOLM (AP) - The Swedish Academy of Science awarded the 1967 Nobel Prize in physics today to Prof. Hans A. Bethe of Cornell University for his contributions to the theory of nuclear reactions and especially his discoveries concerning the energy production in stars.

The prize, literature went to Guatemalan novelist-diplomat Miguel Angel Asturias Oct. 19 for his epic novels about the troubles of the poor in his Central American country.

SACRAMENTO (AP) - Gov. Reagan has suggested possible fed­eral legislation to deal with antidraft, antiewar demonstrations which -- Reagan said -- give "comfort and aid to the enemy.

The laws should leave room for reasonable dissent, Reagan said, but not anything that attempts to justify "bloodshed, arson, violence, damages to property and harm to individuals."

Reagan said he is not advocating a declaration of war, but noted, "We're in combat with an enemy. Today, demonstrations such as the ones in Oakland are actually giving comfort and aid to the enemy.

Reagan handles more GOP 'party chores' this week and will make a brief trip into Northern Mexico, before he is to speak at a meeting of the Commission of the Californias and then go to San Diego Friday to address a San Diego Republican dinner. He's also to speak at an Imperial County Republican gathering in El Centro Saturday.

Hershey Anti-Martyr

General Lewis R. Hershey, the only director in the 27-year history of the Selective Service System, claims there are likely to be reprisals by his agency against those who participated in anti-war demonstrations during the past week.

"We don't want to make martyrs of these people," he told Frank Bell of the University of Colorado Daily. In reference to those who turned in or burned their draft cards last week he said: "We do anything we can to keep the youngsters from being tried."

But he added ominously that the draft agency furnishes any information it has to the Justice Department.

Action against members of the Resistance who turned in their draft cards -- Hershey refers to them as "disobedients" -- will be deferred for now, he indicated. However, two years ago Hershey ordered anti-draft demonstrators at the University of Michigan reclassified I-A.

Hershey also had several criticisms of the demonstrators.

He said they are causing discredit and have been caused by a "sensationalization of the family" and too much "permissiveness."

He also doubted the effectiveness of demonstrations. Out of 34 million draft registrants 600 demonstrators and 200 there does not make much difference," he said. That none of the demonstrators have stopped inductions from joining the army, "Demonstrators," said Hershey, "are being put on by older folks. There are people with prestige with the kids that want to command attention with the emotional and impressionable kids. Ready why, this wanting to get your picture in the papers and on radio and television."

plans informal meetings to bring people together, very informally, and every person who wants to can have a chance to sing a song of his choice, whatever song happens to be brought to mind by the person's feelings at that moment is the one we want to hear."

Modern Folk Song Club

The Modern Folk Song Club is in the process of being organized at UCSB. The main purpose of the club is to get people interested in folk music and informally, and every person who wants to can have a chance to sing a song of his choice, whatever song happens to be brought to mind by the person's feelings at that moment is the one we want to hear.

Self-written songs will be encouraged. Talent is of little importance. What is important is your enjoyment of what is happening and your sincerity with the people around you. It is not necessary to be a singer to be a part of the group. If you are the kind of a person who grooves to the magical sound of Human Being and Culture then MUSC may be what you are looking for.

Bob Dylan says, "If it's all songs it's just one big world of songs so they're all on loan if they're only turned loose to sing..." One of the purposes of this club that is to turn loose these songs.

After getting initially settled, it is hoped that our activities will broaden. A tremendous variety of songs will be exposed and it is possible that some of them will be mimeographed and distributed to the members. Other possible activities include the taping of some of the sessions and the organization of guitar lessons. However, since the club has not even begun to tune up yet, there are no definite plans past the informal sing-ins. All interested faculty members and students are encouraged to call Jay Goodman at 968-6450. All that is needed to make the Modern Folk Song Club a reality is your desire to learn the culture.

Did you know that there are more than nine United States campuses? At least 15 or more exist all over the world.

Today at 4 p.m., in East Hall 1411, the UC Education Abroad Program will sponsor an orientation meeting about the United Kingdom centers. At the meeting, returning students from last year's program will relate their experiences and impressions while in the United Kingdom, as well as show slides and discuss British educational systems and standards.

There are four campuses in the United Kingdom -- the universities of Birmingham, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, and Sussex. The educational system in Britain is different from American in educational practices. Emphasis is more on individual attention to the student, and as a result, the faculty-student ratio is high. Students are assigned a tutor or adviser to guide them in choice of courses and, as appropriate, in special reading for his tutor-salts.

According to Brian Selander, UCSB's counselor for Education Abroad Program, the British educational system of education is very demanding -- being a student is a full time job. Candidates for the United Kingdom are selected by Campus and Statewide Committees, but final acceptance depends on admission by a British university. Students applying must have completed all lower division requirements for their major, as it is the major department that decides upon one's qualification for admission.

Applications are due by Nov. 15. At least a B average is required, and the applicant must be a junior at time of participation. Education Abroad is looking for students with an "intellectual curiosity" and a desire to learn the culture.

The objective of the whole program is involvement in the life of the country, specifically in the life of the University, on both social and academic levels by an exchange among equals.

Gruesome Flick

"The Phantom of the Opera," a grisly, gruesome flick will meet considerably with the activities of Halloween beginning in Campbell Hall at 10 p.m. Tickets are on sale in front of the UCen and at the door.

To the Editor:
The article in the paper entitled, "A Defense of ROTC," was, I felt irrelevant, biased and unfair. I could not for the life of me understand why one should have to read a report of his "opinions and observations." I felt the reference to Mr. Russ as being over-emotional in his attack. After all, it was the Peace Committee that opened the issues. In the present case, that is not the issue. The issue is whether ROTC should be the same as the usual military manner. Short final answers are given to the propaganda put out by the Military Science department.

I feel that Mr. Russ is no better than the others. His "flunking out" is really not the issue here. The main point of the article, that contains the questions and answers seems to be written in the same manner. Short final answers are given to questions that would seem to require much debate.

An institution should never have to be defended by ridicule. If such an institution is unfair, then the thing to do is to make the comment about Mr. Jeff Herman, who wrote a previous, and no doubt, true article, that he was invited to visit the classes in the military science department, and then he wrote a report of what he heard and observed.

I have read his report and it seemed to be far more objective than the article written by Mr. Russ, which I suppose, is something that Mr. Russ wanted all along, but he was invited to visit the classes in the military science department, and then he felt the need to write a report of what he heard and observed.

I must have been in the program and know from experience what he was talking and writing about. This must also mean that at one time he probably had a favorable viewpoint about ROTC.

I am not sure that he is "flunked out" because he was unable to do the work. From reading his report it sounds as if he was not interested in what he was doing. However, I believe that at one time he had a favorable viewpoint about ROTC.

SUSAN HIRSBERG

To the Editor:
One of James Thurber's most amusing sketches describes his experiences at a conference of the Pacific on State during World War II. The course was so bad it was rumored to be subsidized by the Kaiser. Thurber's is a period piece though; killing courses are probably as rare now as they were then.

Efforts to curb the power of ROTC at the University of California go back many years. In the fall of 1934 a rally by Berkeley students at Sather Gate to protest ROTC was broken up by the police, and some students, reportedly egged on by conservative faculty. It wasn't that rough in the late 50's. A dozen petitions and referenda later, a state - a ROTC student picketed drill while in uniform and flunked the course. He protested to the Academic Senate, the Student Affairs Committee, participation by students on an important committee of the Academic Senate, even a Faculty Evaluation Guide (to speak parochially), and most recently, the debate over ROTC.

What is implicit in academic reform is a recognition that what is taught and what is learned is in fact in need of reform, a recognition which leads to new expectations, which lead in turn to pressures for revision. But at present there is here, as elsewhere, the constant. I think the current debate should be judged on the basis of the extent to which it changes expectations, and thus increases the pressure, if this were the case, and not in it might want to put up a sign explaining why he was there, and go on a fast.

Doors Are Strange: 'A Gothic Horror Story'

By JIM BETTINGER

EG Staff Reviewer

A lot of people who had perhaps only heard the Doors a couple of times last night are walking around with their minds, I think, a little out of the ordinary. When you never do anything, as they have been pretty tight, it is true, it's more exciting than a simple one-two, except for one above average member of the evening. The drummer, in a black leather pants and coat, stood by the mike as if he were just about to jump in and start drumming around the stage. He did not do anything more than look at the people dancing, for all the world like some psychotic character. In some ways they are like The Doors, the Righteous Brothers, and the way through the set, the entire audience was in a hypnotized attention, silence reigning throughout.

I still don't know what to make of the Doors, I don't think they can be called just a rock music group, and leave it at that. They are really more of a drama group than anything else, Morrison does not just sing, he shouts and screams and moans, all the time jumping and dancing around the stage. He does not disappear from the picture when his cohorts stretch out on their individual solos, but instead remains to add his own little visual effects to the music being produced.

The Doors' set was preceded by the fact that he is the chief writer of most of their songs, the kind of story that depends on plastic monsters for effect, but the kind that depends on terror and alienation to produce an emotional experience. With the light show provided by Dry Paint, not one of the scenes was left empty to sensation — the effect was so total that you could feel, taste, and touch the atmosphere. They finished off with a seventeen-minute version of "The End," and it was really the end. The Bloozband came out and played another twenty-minute set, but for the majorit...
For those of you who believe that the only I.M. sport that exists in the fall quarter is football, here is a rundown of the remaining activities on schedule for the winter:

1) Wrestling — This tournament had a successful start Monday, and will run through Thursday. Semi-final and final matches for each weight bracket will be held from 7:00 on Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

2) Badminton — There will be a singles and doubles portion to this tournament. The singles competition is scheduled for the week-end of November 4-5, and rosters are now available at the intramural office. The doubles portion of this event is scheduled for the week-end of November 18-19, and I.M. managers will be notified at the time rosters are handed out.

3) Volleyball — An abbreviated form of the sport will be held this quarter in the form of two-man teams. This sport is lined up to begin on the week-end of November 11-12, with rosters now available at the intramural office.

4) Cross Country — Not to forget those individuals with a hearty soul and long legs, the lagoon course of 1.83 miles will again be challenged on November 18. It will be announced when sign-ups will be taken.

This Wednesday, two of the top ten teams in the Indo-Frat league will meet head on in a match destined to have a bearing on the Independent League No. 2 standing. Upstart Charlie Brown is looking for an upset with their talent spearheaded by Bob Scott, Bob Hess and Curt Kelch. The Delta last year won the independent championship in football, and then went on to finish second to the school champion Sig Eps. This year, the Delta attack will center on Dennis Gunen, Brent Thompson and Dave Canwell. I look for the defense in this game to be the bigger Delta team moving through an inexperienced Charlie Brown defense, and pick the Delta to win by six. The game will be held at 4 on Wednesday, November 2 on field A.

My pet peeve of the week: 'Teams which complain that not enough notice has been given on a given sport. Hogwash. It not enough notice has been given on a given sport. Hogwash. My ever-ready solution to those organizations which feel they are being deprived of ample notice on intramural events: get a new sports manager.

Negros Need to Work Out Solutions Themselves

"Tell you something, I think the black man is in better mental condition than any other people in this country. We've had to take suffering and hardships for four hundred years. The white man, at the least, little success back, he ain't had to take the black can take it, too."

If the separation would be a blow to me personally then I think it's talking to all kinds of people, we can't have a total separation. I want to realize that talking in itself means something and helps me understand another side of the white man, then it's good. But really said it when you said that taking was your personal thing and it's simply needed in an economic and a social thing as well.

"Don't think this is something that is going to pass over in a couple of days. A lecturer and Danforth. Fellow I heard that the American black man will decide whether we work towards democratic or communistic, I hope it goes well."

I'm going to be a nigger for the rest of my life. I don't understand anything at all. All I care about is my people. That's all I try to help them, I like the personal side too, but I'm not in a position to make this thing, but that and helping my people, you can guess which I'm going to do.
