I.V. Parking Crisis Blamed on Campus

By Sheryl Nelson County Editor

The crowded parking situation in Isla Vista was blamed on overenrollment at UCSB and several solutions to the predicament were detailed by members of the Isla Vista Federation at the group's Monday night meeting.

Most of the 20 I.V. Federation members in attendance at the meeting turned the car-lined streets of Isla Vista a community nuisance and accused the student population of violating parking laws. However, while the university was isolated as the primary cause of the parking problem, no effective solution could be agreed upon by the federation.

Among the tactics suggested at the meeting to improve the situation were: asking the university to construct parking structures on the outskirts of Isla Vista; prohibiting street parking; and constructing parking lots on open I.V. property.

In fact, Isla Vista Recreation and Park District General Manager Glenn Lazof, who was present at the I.V. Federation meeting, is currently negotiating with the university over potential sites for a parking structure. The university is considering the possibility of constructing a parking structure near Harder Stadium or on other available open land, he said.

However, Lazof believes that existing open property needs to be protected from being turned into parking lots. The IVRPD is at present in no position to enforce parking regulations. They can't take away the problem, but, I.V. Foot Patrol Sgt. Jim Drinkwater noted that the problem lies in the fact that Isla Vista lacks sufficient parking and said that the university allows people to bring their cars, "even if every single lot (in I.V.) was used it wouldn't solve the parking crunch," he said.

Lazof hopes to convince university administrators that "parking structures need to be on the outskirts of I.V." rather than scattered within the community. "We don't want to see parking lots going up all over town," he said.

Although most federation members agreed that I.V. community members and university administrators should cooperate to find a solution to the parking predicament, some believed the university should take full responsibility for providing adequate student parking.

"It is criminal that the university allows people to bring cars," said I.V. Free Press Publisher Carmen Lodiene charged. "Many universities prohibit students from bringing vehicles to school until they are seniors, he said.

"However, I.V. resident June Collas responded that I.V. is a "student community" and that students also have rights that should not be violated. "I.V. Homeowners Association member Leo Jacobson proposed an "au Pair ethic" as one solution to the parking problem, asking the university to put funds in a "pot to enforce parking regulations... We can ticket and solve the problem," he said.

But, I.V. Foal Patrol Sgt. Jim Drinkwater noted that the problem lies in the fact that Isla Vista lacks sufficient parking and said that "increasing citations and towing cars will not necessarily solve the parking crisis, because on many occasions the vehicles are not even using the parking lots."

However, Lazof believes that existing open property needs to be protected from being turned into parking lots. The IVRPD is at present in no position to enforce parking regulations. They can't take away the problem, but, he said.

Federation members eventually agreed to form a committee to investigate the parking issue and to look into potential parking lot sites.

Excavation of Ruins in Sewer Site Complete

By Penny Schulte Staff Writer

Expansion of a Goleta Sanitary District sewage plant has resumed after a team of UCSB archaeologists recently completed its second excavation at the facility's site, which was formerly a Chumash Indian village.

The Sanitary District began its $10 million expansion of the sewage plant in July 1986, following the completion of a county-mandated $200,000 excavation/assessment by a UCSB archaeological team. This original excavation was funded by the Sanitary District to determine whether any damage to the area's historical qualities would occur during the expansion.

However, construction at the site was halted and a second excavation ordered in December when project monitors and archaeologists discovered that a Chumash house floor lay in the intended path of two facility pipelines.

"(Student archaeologists) found remnants of a (Chumash) house floor, which is thought to be an extension of one found in the summer of '86," UCSB archaeologist/anthropology Professor Michael Glueck explained.

Additional artifacts found in the area included pieces of shellfish, bones of sea mammals, waste deposits, and shell beads that were used by the Chumash for jewelry and currency, Glueck said.

"Most of what we find is trash, but through this we can discover lifeways," he explained.

Because Sanitary District officials realized that the discovery could further stall the expansion project's progress, they agreed to fund a second excavation and granted $21,000 to UCSB archaeologists to excavate Chumash artifacts before construction resumed.

Because the land, which is located immediately east of the Santa Barbara Municipal Airport near the Goleta Slough, is an ancestral site of Chumash houses and hearts, it is considered sacred by the Chumash.

Thus, the United Chumash Central Council, a group of coastal Chumash that addresses Chumash cultural (See EXCAVATE, p.9)
Israeli Soldiers Fire, Wounding Jalazoon.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador — A military court Tuesday sentenced two former soldiers to 30 years in the murders of two U.S. land reform advisers and the head of the Salvadoran land reform agency.

The U.S. Embassy said in a statement Tuesday: "We do not believe that persons who have committed crimes of terrorism, in this instance the massacre of innocent, unarmed persons entering in a restaurant, should go unpunished."

Congress.

BOGOTA, Colombia — President Virgilio Barco vowed not to be blackmailed by the cocaine barons who killed his chief prosecutor in the first salvo of a "total war" on efforts to extradite them to the United States.

"I do not believe that persons who have committed crimes of terrorism, in this instance the massacre of innocent, unarmed persons entering in a restaurant, should go unpunished."

Two former soldiers were released last month. They had been tried twice and acquitted in absentia.

The Arab-run Palestine Press Service said Israeli gunfire on Monday wounded dozens of protesters, many covering their faces with masks of threats from the "narcotraficantes," who possess private armies, bands of assassins and influence in West Bank town of El Bireh and the Jalazoon refugee camp.

"I had a feeling like, 'well, this is the end,'" said Frank Del Rio, a Maintenance Worker. "I think the federal action is lawless and inhuman," said John Seymour of Anaheim, chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Substance Abuse, said his bill will become a state master plan to deal with the problems of drug and alcohol abuse.

"We believe the federal action is lawless and inhuman," said Casey McKeever of the Western Center on Law and Poverty on behalf of the Homeless Advocacy Foundation.

debate.

Just what is inside a cloud? Is it some kind of parachute?

The Daily Nexus, a University of California Santa Barbara student newspaper, examines the issue as the clouds come for a visit this afternoon.

The federal grand jury indictment cited work Rockwell International did on Iraq's satellites to pinpoint locations on Earth.

The 1982 order was issued as part of a U.S. Department of Health and Human Services decision be	 overturned.

"We believe the federal action is lawless and inhuman," said John Seymour of Anaheim, chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Substance Abuse, said his bill will become a state master plan to deal with the problems of drug and alcohol abuse.

"I have been convinced that unless we are willing (to subject ourselves to specific goals and a specific plan... the problem will continue," he said the state's Little Hoover Commission.

"I had a feeling like, 'well, this is the end,'" said Francisco Herrera, 35, of Calexico, Calif., via telephone from El Salvador. "I thought I was going to be wanted like an old rag."

Herrera and religious leaders from the San Francisco and Oakland Catholic dioceses condemned the attack, which occurred Sunday at the Calle Real refugee camp in El Salvador.

Senators Say Helms' Criticism of Missile Pact is 'Red Herring'

WASHINGTON — Republican and Democratic senators joined forces Tuesday seeking to discredit attempts by Sen. Jesse Helms, N.C., to reverse the Reagan administration's support for a new Soviet-American arms treaty because it would destroy only missiles and not their nuclear warheads.

The top U.S. arms control negotiators at Geneva, Max Kampelman and Adlai Stevenson, said the treaty achieves the goal of eliminating Soviet medium-range missiles as a military threat to Western Europe and a politicial threat to the Soviet Union (AVO) alliance.

They told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that destruction of the missiles was the crucial provision because that meant warheads could no longer be delivered to their targets.

Bush Campaign Exploits 'Rather Deep CBS News Controversy'

WASHINGTON — George Bush's campaign aides said Tuesday the public backs Bush in his televised clash with CBS anchor Dan Rather and they moved quickly to exploit what they called a case of "an unfair journalist trying to take the vice president."

"I don't want to have a big running fight with Dan Rather," said Bush when asked about the incident while campaigning in Champaign, Ill.

"It's got to be his thing. He's got to do it his way. And I've got to defend myself. Sometimes I get my case to the people," he said.

However, Bush campaign aides saw nothing wrong with crossing swords with the CBS anchor, long viewed with contempt by many Republicans.

Homeless Sue Administration for $40 Million in Federal Funds

SACRAMENTO — Seven homeless families sued the Reagan administration Tuesday, seeking federal approval for a rejected $40 million in Federal funds to help 30,000 homeless families get permanent homes.

The class action lawsuit, filed in U.S. District Court by the Western Center on Law and Poverty on behalf of the families and other homeless (APDF) recipients, asks that a U.S. Department of Health and Human Services decision be overturned.

"We believe the federal action is lawless and inhuman," said Casey McKeever of the Western Center said at a Capitol news conference.

The program, set up under legislation signed by Gov. Jerry Brown, is designed to use federal and state money to pay rental and utility deposits for homeless recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC). It would also give recipients $30 a day for up to three weeks of temporary shelter. APDF recipients are typically children and their mothers.

"It's got to be his thing. He's got to do it his way. And I've got to defend myself. Sometimes I get my case to the people," he said.

However, Bush campaign aides saw nothing wrong with crossing swords with the CBS anchor, long viewed with contempt by many Republicans.

"I don't want to have a big running fight with Dan Rather," said Bush when asked about the incident while campaigning in Champaign, Ill.

"It's got to be his thing. He's got to do it his way. And I've got to defend myself. Sometimes I get my case to the people," he said.

"I have been convinced that unless we are willing (to subject ourselves to specific goals and a specific plan... the problem will continue," he said the state's Little Hoover Commission.

"I had a feeling like, 'well, this is the end,'" said Francisco Herrera, 35, of Calexico, Calif., via telephone from El Salvador. "I thought I was going to be wanted like an old rag."

Herrera and religious leaders from the San Francisco and Oakland Catholic dioceses condemned the attack, which occurred Sunday at the Calle Real refugee camp in El Salvador.

"I don't want to have a big running fight with Dan Rather," said Bush when asked about the incident while campaigning in Champaign, Ill.

"It's got to be his thing. He's got to do it his way. And I've got to defend myself. Sometimes I get my case to the people," he said.

However, Bush campaign aides saw nothing wrong with crossing swords with the CBS anchor, long viewed with contempt by many Republicans.

NASA Find Unproperly Wedled Seal in Space Shuttle Engine

WASHINGTON — Detective work led NASA engineers to a critical seal in a space shuttle main engine that was improperly welded by the manufacturer, the space agency said Tuesday. The repair may replace major components on all three shuttle engines.

The effect of this and other new problems on plans for the first post-Challenger flight still is being assessed, said David L. Winterhalter, director of systems analysis and planning at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

While disassembling and inspecting one of the high-pressure fuel turbo pumps as its main engine last Friday, engineers found cracks were "use-related" — caused by firing the engine.
Israel, Palestine Topic of Dialogue
West Bank/Gaza Strip Problems to be Focus

Four perspectives on the current Israeli/Palestinian conflict will be presented today when UCSB professors analyze the tense situation at the Hutchins Center.

Four expert opinions will be presented, each from a different department within the university. We want to present a broad spectrum of disciplines present will help balance the controversial discussion," he said.

"Four expert opinions will be representing four different departments within the university. We want to present a broad spectrum of interpretation, rather than any one single reading of the conflict," he said.

"It's not going to be a debate, it's going to be an educational forum," Cohen added.

Each panelist will be allowed 10 minutes to offer observations on the conflict before a group discussion and question-and-answer format is initiated.

Because of the complexities of the conflict and the short time period allotted for the discussion, panelists will only be able to present a superficial view of recent events. "Only the basic points can be aired, but at least students can be given information that they might not see on the evening news," said panelist Gallagher.

"We will be presenting a framework in which people can analyze the events that are taking place," she said.

And, while all the expert panelists caution that an entire course would not allow enough time and material to interpret the situation, they believe the discussion will be worthwhile. "It's a commendable program," Noel commented.

The Hutchins Center is located in Building 446, in the corner of the parking lot closest to the airport and adjacent to the Engineering II building. The dialogue, which is being sponsored by UCSB Hillel, will be presented in the main conference room. All interested students and community members are invited to attend, Cohen said.

— Steven Elzer

Psst...

PIZZA EXPRESS
Has A Great Deal For You!

Early Bird / Late Night
1:00 pm-4:00 pm / 9:00 pm-1:00 am

Special
Save Over $3°
Buy a Large Pizza for the price of a small
(1 item only • Extra Topping $1)
Also: Buy 1 Large Soda, get 2nd one FREE!

1 coupon per pizza
1 coupon per soda

No coupons necessary • Not valid with other offers • Specials everyday except Monday

QUESTIONS?? please call 961-4584 for budget packet information.

* all University sanctioned clubs/groups are eligible that meet A.S. guidelines.

Pizzazz

FREE CASH

IT COULD BE YOURS

If your group or club* wants $$$ for your 1988-89 school year program, come to the main A.S. Office, UCen 3rd floor Rm. 3177 M-F 8am-4pm and pick up your BUDGET REQUEST PACKET.

Completed packets must be returned by
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1988 at 4 pm
(no late packets will be considered)

LETTERS & SCIENCE STUDENTS
Monday, February 1
IS THE FINAL DAY
to drop classes for Winter Quarter

Contact the Office of the Registrar

Government & University Relations ‘Teach-in’ Topic

The relationship between the United States government and the nation’s universities will be explored tomorrow during a five-hour ‘Teach-in’ that will be held in front of Chancellor Hall from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The event is being sponsored by the Associated Students Student Lobby Annex, which has taken an active role in protesting the presence of Office of Governmental Studies at UCSB. At the teach-in, various professors, students and visitors will discuss alleged covert action and CIA involvement in college campuses. Music, poetry and food will also be part of the event.

Flyers posted around campus encourage students to “boycott classes for an alternative education.”

"We need to start to explore this malign relationship between the university and the government," Student Lobby Annex Director Jaime Acton explained.

Ex-CIA agent Ver Lyon, a member of Activists for Responsive Dissent, will be one of the speakers featured at the event. Lyon, (see TEACH, p.4)
Feminist Mystique promoted the awakening of social awareness in women. The "feminine mystique" in what Friedan describes as a cultural phenomenon — the subjugation of women's necessities to the general expectation of their becoming wives and mothers. In her 1963 book The Second Stage, Friedan continued to explore these ideas and reflected on the social changes that have taken place during the past 20 years. In addition, she offered new ways of looking at feminism in The Second Stage. One of Friedan's proposals for the '80s is "to get off the pornography kick and face the real obscenity of poverty." She asserts that the women's movement never really dealt with the fact that numerous middle-class women are sinking into poverty. Another of her proposals is to "continue to fight for real political power," which entails placing women in political offices of importance.

Friedan has taught at the University of Southern California and the New School for Social Research in New York City, as well as at Temple, Columbia and Harvard universities. She received honorary doctorates from Smith College and the New York State University at Stony Brook, and is known as a pioneer in the '60s and '70s women's movements. Today she remains a leader in the ongoing struggle for the Equal Rights Amendment, according to UCSB Arts & Lectures Films and Lectures Manager Roman Baratik.

Beginning at 8 p.m., "An Evening with Betty Friedan" is being presented by UCSB Arts & Lectures. The event is being sponsored by the Associated Students Program Board, the UCSB Women's Commission on the Status of Women, A.S. Student Activities, the Associated Students Art's & Lectures Films and Lectures Manager Roman Baratik, and the Chicano Studies department. The admission is $5 for UCSB students, $10 general admission, with foreign language students allowed to attend for free. Tickets are available at the Summer Sessions Office or by phoning the UC Irvine Summer Sessions Office or sending in the coupon.

Next summer you can attend the twelfth annual fully-accredited University of California Summer Session at Pembroke College, Cambridge University. Courses emphasize British and European art and architecture, literature, history, and political and social issues. Faculty is composed of outstanding lecturers at Cambridge.

Special features of the Summer Session include:

- Residence at 600-year-old Pembroke College in comfortable rooms which has housed many generations of British scholars.
- Weekday meals provided in college dining halls.
- Enrollment in two 4-unit courses which take full advantage of the English location through field trips to related places and events.

Representative comments of students who have attended in previous years:

- "Provided a unique growing experience that mere words can't possibly express."
- "It was definitely the best thing I've ever done through the U.C."
- "A massive accumulation of English culture and history."
- "A great combination of social, academic, and cultural experiences. I enjoyed myself immensely."
- "Cambridge offered itself to me in a most friendly way, in Pembroke College or in town, through all of the people I met, through all of the beautiful cultural activities offered."
- "I never met friendly people in my life."

Garcia will discuss topics of their own choice, Acton said. Other speakers will discuss government support of research work being done at UCSB. "UCSB is abundant with examples of academic orientation toward the interests of the military-industrial complex," states a teach-in pamphlet.

— Adam Moss
UCSB Professor Uncovers Ancient Country House in Area North of Rome, Italy

By Randolph Klein
Reporter

Working last spring in an area north of Rome, Italy, UCSB art history Professor Mario Del Chiaro uncovered one of the largest ancient country villas ever found.

A UCSB faculty member since 1956, Del Chiaro discovered the villa while searching for artifacts of the pre-Roman civilization of the Etruscans on a site known as the Campo delle Chiese, or "Field of the Church." The find has turned out to be the largest country villa discovered in southern Etruria, an area north of Rome.

"I was absolutely amazed at the extent of the villa," Del Chiaro said. "It’s not an ordinary villa.

The villa has been dated to the first centuries B.C. and A.D., spanning the historical period of Rome from the Late Republic to the Early Empire. This conclusion was arrived at in a student seminar that Del Chiaro had organized specifically for the purpose of dating the villa. Students who took part in the seminar studied the artistic style of artifacts found within the villa, as well as the archaic Latin script emblazoned onto the roof tiles, to determine the time period, Del Chiaro explained.

Del Chiaro speculated that a wealthy Roman owned the villa, and he expressed hope that it was the country retreat of a prominent historical figure.

Among the features pointing to the villa owner's wealth is the terrace on which the ancient house was built, Del Chiaro said. After six weeks of test trenching, Del Chiaro estimated the villa's size to be approximately 65 meters by 60 meters. Foundations of this size were unusual except in the surrounding area. The villa appears to have been turned into a student residence in the 1960s.

"It is an acknowledgement of an international reputation."
— Mario Del Chiaro

The Daily Nexus: Where the News Never Sleeps ... And Neither Do We

FOREIGN FILM FESTIVAL

date: January 27
place: I.V. Theater
time: 8 & 10 P.M.
price: $2.50

Three Men and a Cradle

Winner of three French Academy Awards, this movie is the story of three roommates Jacques, Pierre, and Michel who find their bachelor existence disrupted by the discovery of a baby on their doorstep. Reluctant to take on such a responsibility, they eventually rise to the occasion and are won over by the cooing little bundle. "Three Men" is an admirable blend of delicacy and high comedy. Directed by Coline Serreau.

...another great festival by A.S. Program Board!

METROPOLITAN THEATRES CORP
Movie Hotline 963-9503

GRANADA
1912 State St., S.B. 962-3873

Broadcast News (R)
Sat & Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15
Empire of the Sun (PG)
Screen 2 at 12, 2:15, 4:15

Riviera
320 West Anapamu St.
965-2188

Riviera
Hope and Glory (PG)
Sat & Sun 1:15, 3:00, 5:15

Riviera

Plaza de Oro

Sawdust Café, 6030 Hollister
963-3900

For Keeps (PG)
Sat & Sun at 12, 2:15, 4:15
Moonstruck (PG)
Sat & Sun at 4:15, 6:15

SWAP MEET!
907 S. Kellogg, Goleta
967-9447

SWAP MEET!

ARLINGTON
1517 State St., S.B. 968-4372

Good Morning
Vietnam (R)
Sat & Sun at 1:15, 3:15, 5:15

FIESTA FOUR

1535 State St., S.B. 965-1372

Couch Trip (R)
Sat & Sun at 12, 2:15, 4:15

Cinderella (G)
Sat & Sun at 4:15, 6:15

Wall Street (R)
Sat & Sun at 12, 2:15, 4:15

Throw Momma from the Train (PG3)
Sat & Sun at 12, 2:15, 4:15

THREE MEN AND A CRADLE

From Granville Island Brewing Co. Vancouver, B.C.

$1.25 PASADENA LAGER

and Spike's Famous MOOSEBURGER special

6030 Hollister 964-5211
Rather Beats Bush with KO

Editorial

While last week's Tyson vs. Holmes fight fades from the headlines, there was another bout on Monday night that has become front-page news. This latest skirmish was between two heavyweights in their own respective fields, CBS anchorman Dan Rather and Vice President George Bush.

The CBS Evening News featured a live ten-minute interview with Bush that unexpectedly turned into a verbal shouting match punctuated with angry blows from both parties. Members of the Bush campaign claim that CBS tricked Bush by saying that the interview would be a political profile rather than an inquisitor of his role in the Iran-Contra affair.

Many critics have charged Rather with acting arrogant, unfair and disrespectfully to the vice president. But those critics, some of whom are journalists, should realize that it is people like Bush who appear out-of-line in such an interview situation.

George Bush was not being interviewed only as a vice president, but as a front-running candidate for the presidency. Rather was treating Bush as any candidate for president, but as a front-running candidate for the presidency. It is the duty of a good journalist to investigate the important issues. Whether Bush was expecting the hard-line questions about his role in the affair or not is irrelevant. The tone and format of the interview is the choice of the reporter, not the person being interviewed. It's a reporter's job to get to the point, not to acquiesce when given a bullchip answer.

It appears that Bush desired an opportunity to extoll his merits as a candidate; he saw the occasion as a free ten-minute commercial for his campaign. When Bush received the letter from CBS requesting the interview, Bush noted: "I feel comfortable with Rather. Be sure this guy gets reply soon."

Appropriately, Bush got more than the flattering exposure that he was expecting. But, with all the post-interview hooplah, backers have gone so far as saying that their candidate actually came off well during the verbal melee. They believe the debate showed that George has some backbone. If anything, Bush lived up to his reputation as a combative candidate. Even if he raised his voice a bit, he refused to answer the questions, and cried "unfair" when the game wasn't played by his rules. If this whole thing was a plot to make Bush look better, the egg on his face doesn't help one bit. There was no context Monday night. Rather won the heavyweight match with a knock-out.

BLOOM COUNTY

BLOOM COUNTY

BLOOM COUNTY

BLOOM COUNTY

BLOOM COUNTY

THE DREAM INTERVIEW IN BUSHLAND.

THE DREAM INTERVIEW IN BUSHLAND.

THE DREAM INTERVIEW IN BUSHLAND.

THE DREAM INTERVIEW IN BUSHLAND.

DOONESBURG

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

by Garry Trudeau

The Reader's Voice

Errors of Facts

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Jay Hubbard's article Crisis in the West Bank and Gaza makes a valiant attempt at presenting irrefutable opinions on this complex topic, but contains errors of fact and bias.

(1) Tel-Aviv is not Israel's capital - Jerusalem is. Though many countries, including the U.S., chose to locate their embassies in Tel-Aviv to appease public opinion, this opinion does not alter the fact. Furthermore, Jerusalem is not a legal state capital of Israel, though it may be a de facto capital. It is - and always has been - an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine.

(2) The West Bank was an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine. The fact that the U.S. aid to Israel. Furthermore, if Israel did annex the territories it would find itself with a near majority of Arabs, with demography working against the Israelis. They would either have to abandon democratic principles or jeopardize the existence of the Jewish homeland.

A second option for Israel would be to negotiate for either a Palestinian homeland or a return of the occupied territories to Jordan and Egypt. This would be difficult in either case because Israel has allowed Jordanians in the West Bank and Gaza to return to the territory and has promised not to abandon them. Israel has been working to legitimize with the Palestinians that Israel would consider moderate enough to negotiate with. The situation is too extreme, from the Israeli perspective, for any candidate at this age this obstacle becomes more intraversable. Even if Israel had someone with whom it would negotiate, the Israelis have found that making a Palestinians annex a state such a state Israel would not have control over the territory. In the current situation, a buffer state under its control, between it and its antagonists. Although with Jordan and Egypt, an independent Palestinian state for the Israelis, this would not

The Reader's Voice

Errors of Facts

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Jay Hubbard's article Crisis in the West Bank and Gaza makes a valiant attempt at presenting irrefutable opinions on this complex topic, but contains errors of fact and bias.

(1) Tel-Aviv is not Israel's capital - Jerusalem is. Though many countries, including the U.S., chose to locate their embassies in Tel-Aviv to appease public opinion, this opinion does not alter the fact. Furthermore, Jerusalem is not a legal state capital of Israel, though it may be a de facto capital. It is - and always has been - an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine.

(2) The West Bank was an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine. The fact that the U.S. aid to Israel. Furthermore, if Israel did annex the territories it would find itself with a near majority of Arabs, with demography working against the Israelis. They would either have to abandon democratic principles or jeopardize the existence of the Jewish homeland.

A second option for Israel would be to negotiate for either a Palestinian homeland or a return of the occupied territories to Jordan and Egypt. This would be difficult in either case because Israel has allowed Jordanians in the West Bank and Gaza to return to the territory and has promised not to abandon them. Israel has been working to legitimize with the Palestinians that Israel would consider moderate enough to negotiate with. The situation is too extreme, from the Israeli perspective, for any candidate at this age this obstacle becomes more intraversable. Even if Israel had someone with whom it would negotiate, the Israelis have found that making a Palestinians annex a state such a state Israel would not have control over the territory. In the current situation, a buffer state under its control, between it and its antagonists. Although with Jordan and Egypt, an independent Palestinian state for the Israelis, this would not

The Reader's Voice

Errors of Facts

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Jay Hubbard's article Crisis in the West Bank and Gaza makes a valiant attempt at presenting irrefutable opinions on this complex topic, but contains errors of fact and bias.

(1) Tel-Aviv is not Israel's capital - Jerusalem is. Though many countries, including the U.S., chose to locate their embassies in Tel-Aviv to appease public opinion, this opinion does not alter the fact. Furthermore, Jerusalem is not a legal state capital of Israel, though it may be a de facto capital. It is - and always has been - an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine.

(2) The West Bank was an integral part of the British Mandate, and in 1947 the United Nations partition resolution assigned it to the state of Israel, not to any state of Palestine. The fact that the U.S. aid to Israel. Furthermore, if Israel did annex the territories it would find itself with a near majority of Arabs, with demography working against the Israelis. They would either have to abandon democratic principles or jeopardize the existence of the Jewish homeland.

A second option for Israel would be to negotiate for either a Palestinian homeland or a return of the occupied territories to Jordan and Egypt. This would be difficult in either case because Israel has allowed Jordanians in the West Bank and Gaza to return to the territory and has promised not to abandon them. Israel has been working to legitimize with the Palestinians that Israel would consider moderate enough to negotiate with. The situation is too extreme, from the Israeli perspective, for any candidate at this age this obstacle becomes more intraversable. Even if Israel had someone with whom it would negotiate, the Israelis have found that making a Palestinians annex a state such a state Israel would not have control over the territory. In the current situation, a buffer state under its control, between it and its antagonists. Although with Jordan and Egypt, an independent Palestinian state for the Israelis, this would not
Israel today

The Palestinian problem is festering in a pool of inaction. The Palestinians must plan for the future. They must envision the world that they wish to live in and work diligently to bring it into being. The Arabs have a limited future in which they can enhance their lives and culture. Violence, for the Arab lover, has been a way of life, often contributing to Israel's intransigence. Although the Palestinians may attempt to prompt Israeli action through sporadic acts of violence (i.e. suicide bombing) or by persuading those who need to take action. The Israelis face tough choices on each route to take. They are in a position to draw both parties out of this pool and into productive lives. The time is ripe to make a move. I think the Palestinian issue will show willingness to recognize Israel in return for negotiations; the Israelis have no more excuses for delaying talks.

Elisabeth Magill is a senior political science international relations and economics major.

Steve's Answer

Editor In Chief's Response: Scott Easley's cartoon Fresh-Man was suspended from publication in October after the Nexus printed a comic strip that was offensive to the Jewish community. One reason the weekly feature was suspended was because at the time of the incident, we were unable to speak with the artist face to face. Mr. Easley has since been able to discuss the matter with us. I think the problem here was that the artist was not fully aware of the impact that his artwork was having on the Israeli community. I believe that the Nexus should have been more diligent in its efforts to ensure that its content was respectful and appropriate for all readers. I think that we need to do a better job of understanding the perspectives of different communities and ensuring that our content is not offensive to them.

Joe's Answer

Where Did All The Money Go?

Editor, Daily Nexus:

Each year tuition is increased and each year more and more students are admitted to this University's campus. Where is the money going? I know for a fact that it is not going to increase the amount of classes because I have repeatedly been unable to get into the classes I want and sometime need. For a year now, I have tried to vain to complete my Sociology major prerequisites. Although there are hundreds of students in Soc 1 and 2, only the professor refers to accept petitions! At this rate, how can any of the students get a 5 year college plan? I have tried to make a 5 year college plan, but have been unsuccessful.

NICHOLAS M. MCCARTY

Why Is He Back?

Editor, Daily Nexus:

As a Christian, I am very disturbed with the events in Nicaragua. Our nation’s “under God” in my opinion means that the government is, in a way, promoting religion. I do not believe that this is constitutional. It also seems to be a violation of the separation of church and state. As a Christian, I believe that my beliefs should not be forced upon others. I believe that we should respect each other’s beliefs and not try to change them. This is the reason why I am very disturbed with the events in Nicaragua.

KELLY L. NICHOLAS

End Contra Aid

Editor, Daily Nexus:

As a Christian, I am very disturbed with the events in Nicaragua. Our nation’s “under God” in my opinion means that the government is, in a way, promoting religion. I do not believe that this is constitutional. It also seems to be a violation of the separation of church and state. As a Christian, I believe that my beliefs should not be forced upon others. I believe that we should respect each other’s beliefs and not try to change them. This is the reason why I am very disturbed with the events in Nicaragua.

KELLY L. NICHOLAS
POLICE REPORT

Bicyclist Busted for Joint, Warrants

A bicyclist who was riding on campus near the Cafe In- lieri was arrested at 11:15 p.m. Jan. 21 for smoking a large marijuana cigarette, as well as for having outstanding traffic warrants, according to UCSB Police Department Lt. Antonio Alvarez.

Officers who were on bicycle patrol saw the cyclist, Steven Man, 19, ride down a campus street. When he was stopped, he was found to be in possession of marijuana, and subsequently booked into the Santa Barbara County Jail, Alvarez said.

Transient Arrested for Sleeping in Rob Gym

On Jan. 21, campus police arrested Frank Perez, a local transient, who was found sleeping in Robertson Gym, UCSB Police Department Lt. Antonio Alvarez said. Perez was "highly intoxicated" and was subsequently booked into the Santa Barbara County Jail, according to Alvarez.

Skinheads' Inadequate Vista

Many Isla Vista residents have filed complaints with the I.V. Foot Patrol concerning a number of youths with shaved heads who roam the streets on weekends and provoke fights, according to Foot Patrol Sgt. Jim Drinkwater.

For example, at a Del Playa party held over the Jan. 22-24 weekend, a group of skinheads allegedly "walked through the party and picked out a victim," proceeding to severe beat the victim with a wooden walking stick, fists and feet. Drinkwater explained. The victim, received lacerations above the eye and on the bridge of his nose, and was transported to Goleta Valley Community Hospital, Drinkwater said.

The foot patrol has received complaints about skinheads for approximately the past two weeks, according to Perez. "Last week, we noticed one or two reports of skinhead people starting fights, but who were not caught," he said.

"With the nature of I.V. being a party town, it attracts low life," Drinkwater commented.

Campus Police Receive Indecent Exposure Complaints

On Jan. 22, the UCSB Police Department received two complaints that a male "student" was indecently exposing himself by the "Enchanted Forest" at West Campus, UCSB Police Department Lt. Antonio Alvarez reported. The suspect, however, was nowhere to be found when officers arrived at the area, Alvarez said.

I.V. Resident Falls from Cliff

An allegedly intoxicated Isla Vista resident fell to feet from a cliff at the "Window by the Sea" on Del Playa at 10:26 p.m. Jan. 23, UCSB Police Department Lt. Antonio Alvarez reported.

The victim, Tracy Chasey, sustained moderate injuries from the fall and was transported to Goleta Valley Community Hospital, Alvarez said.

POLICE REPORT

FACE MOUTH

CAMPUS DISCOUNT

Everything you need in a store . . . AND MORE!

PLUS: Pack & Ship
Parcel Service

Come and see what we're about!

Be against silence: speak out if you've been raped.

THE TOUCH DECISION

A Seminar On...

"Penmanship Maximization"

With special attention for Teaching Professionals

By: Carol Fastach
U.C.S.B. Faculty Club
Room 3
3:00-4:30 P.M.
February 3, 1988
(805) 966-5338

Please Reserve Space by:
January 30, 1988
Once An Option is Chosen,
It's For Life.

Be All
You Can Be...
Advertise
In the Daily Nexus

STUDENTS • FACULTY
STAFF
LIBRARY
BOOKSTORE
WED.
Jan. 27
8:30-12:30
Library, 8th Floor

DAILY NEXUS

Feb. 2, 1988
14

EXCAVATE

(Continued from p.1)
issues and development in Santa Barbara County, was hired to aid in monitoring the site and was paid $25,000 for its help in the project.

"We keep in close contact with (the) UCSB archaeologists and the Chumash Council to notify them of any earth work that will take place or that we do to aid in the completion of the improvement," Sanitary District Superintendent Jeff Salt explained.

The role of the United Chumash Central Council is to protect the integrity of sites of Chumash ancestry, he explained.

GIFT

(Continued from p.1)
propriate.

This year's gift plans are currently in the preliminary stages, according to Zaiser, who said that definite gift ideas should begin to materialize by the middle of the academic year.

"We tried to reach out to as many campus groups as possible in order to gain input, so everyone feels involved," she said. "And we decided to start in the middle of February so people can give their ideas for the gift.

"Generally it (the gift) should be something everyone could get excited about — that would represent all the seniors," Zaiser said.

"It should have enough serious appeal so that people would want to come back to it," Hubbard added.

Because senior class gifts are funded solely by personal student monies, a primary task of the Mortar Board is to solicit support from the senior class, Hubbard said.

"By the time we get pledges in April, we want everyone hyped," Zaiser said.

One of the means being used to acquire support in the " '88 Club" program, seniors contributing $80 or more will have their names inscribed on a plaque next to the gift, Zaiser explained. Through a similar program employed during the past two years, a plaque has been installed next to the pyramid, and one for the Events Center marquee — last year's senior class gift — is pending.

Mortar Board members have said they intend to have the gift in place before commencement begins, but this is dependent upon the nature of the gift. "Our goal is to get the gift placed by graduation, but sometimes the feasibility isn't there," Zaiser said.

"The tradition is back," Hofman commented. "It looks like we're going to have another successful campaign."

VILLA

(Continued from p.1)

the homes of the very rich, he said.

Del Chiaro additionally found that what he believes is the substructure for a series of columns, one of which had been previously discovered and set up as a monument in the nearby town of Santa sano. Such column structures were "characteristic of villas that were expensive," according to Del Chiaro.

One of the villa's most notable features is a partially excavated circular tower, which may have been a private bath or sauna. Del Chiaro believes that "elaborate drainage system" connected to the room further points to this substructure, which may have been previously discovered.

Zaiser, who said that definite gift ideas should begin to materialize by the middle of the academic year, added, "It is an acknowledgement of the university has permission on whether he can acquire university funding.

It is very hard to get permission from the Italian government to excavate," he said. "Since the university has permission, it is an acknowledgement of the university's extraordinary international reputation," he explained.

The site should be cleared in "one or two more (digging) seasons," Del Chiaro said. "It goes to a very interesting villa."
U.S. Women's Team

Soccer's Jennings to See Jersey Retired Following Gaucho Career

By Aaron Heifetz

Sports Staff Writer

You can talk to Conner Henry, you can talk to Chris Speier and you can even talk to Gauchos Joe. But no former UCSB athlete has had more of an impact on his or her sport than Carin Jennings.

Some may ask, "who the heck's Carin Jennings?" Others may guess, "she's that soccer girl, right?"

If Carin Jennings is just "that soccer girl," then Pole was just "that Dutch guy" who played for the Cosmos or something.

What happens to be simply is the "Pele" of female soccer.

She was recently named the United States Soccer Federation Female Athlete of the Year. This means that of the 3.5 million people who play the U.S.'s most participated-in sport and who cover the soccer fields of the world, she is one of the best in the world.

And if that isn't enough, Jennings' #12 jersey will be retired at the close of the 1987 UCSB basketball game, making her the first UCSB athlete ever to receive the distinction.

"It's a very nice honor; it's touching," Jennings said in a recent phone interview. "It's a great feeling to have worked for four years and then be recognized for it."

Jennings is looking forward to participating in the World Cup, but she will never leave the sport, the one many call the "hardest sport on earth." "I'll be 30 then and I guess I will be time to retire from the national team and get on with other things," she said.

"Since I've been playing for the National Team, we've only lost last games (China and the world's #1 team, Sweden)," she added. "I think we can do a lot better in the Cosmo and participating in such an historical event. This is the one people will remember.

After the World Cup, perhaps after Jennings has led the U.S. to a women's soccer championship, setting the standard for all women players to strive toward, then maybe she'll hang up her cleats. "I'll be 30 then and I guess I will be time to retire from the national team and get on with other things," she said.

But, she will never leave the sport, the one many call the best in the world, without leaving her indelible mark of being one of the best women to ever play the game.

For, to score one goal is to make a woman a hero; but to score 102 is to make her a legend.

"She is the greatest player I've ever seen," says Via Berti, a former Gaucho soccer player. "It's a very nice honor; it's touching," Jennings said in a recent phone interview. "It's a great feeling to have worked for four years and then be recognized for it."

Jennings is looking forward to participating in the World Cup and, although she puts the U.S. about seventh or eighth in the world, she's optimistic.

"I'm feeling good. After the World Cup, perhaps after Jennings has led the U.S. to a women's soccer championship, setting the standard for all women players to strive toward, then maybe she'll hang up her cleats. "I'll be 30 then and I guess I will be time to retire from the national team and get on with other things," she said.

But, she will never leave the sport, the one many call the best in the world, without leaving her indelible mark of being one of the best women to ever play the game.

For, to score one goal is to make a woman a hero; but to score 102 is to make her a legend.

"She is the greatest player I've ever seen," says Via Berti, a former Gaucho soccer player.
The trip was purely for enjoyment and Mike has yet to make a decision on whether or not he will, try the pro ranks after graduation. Right now I'm just having fun with the amateur tournaments and the school competition," he admitted. "I don't really have the drive to go pro like Chris does.

The Linds' immediate focus though, is to reclaim the NSAA title that was wrestled from UCSB last year. "I really don't see anyone beating us this year," Chris said confidently. "We've got just too much all around talent."
In Real Estate

- PARTTIME BOOKKEEPER 8:00-12:00 Mon.-Fri. Expo Quarters. Call Sloan 400-9142.

- Full time cook- $8/hr. Same day. Call Mrs. McCullogh 562-8391.

For Sale

- COMPLETE WORKING MOSCATEX SYSTEM. WORKS ON ANY new or used typewriter. Includes word processor, hairpin, & Pough PS-2800 FREE software. Only $97. Call Carol 791-3568.

- Do you need UCLA or USCB microfiche? Call Joyce 961-6297 or Jim 564-6774 for low rate. Ask for A. R.

- IBM XT CLONE SPECIAL $950.00. IBM 5150. 486/33. 256/14. Fast trumpet stereo, hard disk 30/60, price 9916-896. Ask for Dave 489-2779.

Auto Sales

- 1985 TOYOTA RXT, 1st, 2nd gear, new tires, new brakes, all the factory options. $4500. Call Marc 685-3855.

- NEW ENGINE! LESLIE 7540.

- VW's Squareback-62. Original engine, 4 spd., stock, and body all is good condition 11700. 360 obs. 685-0981 evenings.

- Wanted

- Rent: First month's rent + Security deposit. 1 bedroom apt near campus. 2 Bedroom 6250 Milpas. Contact Cervantes 685-2344 or leave message 664-3000 D.P.

- Auto Insurance

- SUGINO triple crank all upgraded already paid. 968-8641 6644 D.P.

- Wanted

- Roommate wanted for apt. Yours FOR $300. Tom 685-8634.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.

- Roommate wanted Male N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $230/mo. Call Debbie 962-3874 LV

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $300. Tom 685-8634.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________

- Roommate wanted Female N/Smkr- No pets- Utl inc. $275 per rm. Giant kitchen, living rm. 6777 Trigo. Call Laura 562-8669.___________________
Falling in Love?
—or at least hope to?!

Valentine’s Day will soon be upon us and this could be the perfect day to pledge your love (or “care fors”)

And to help you get your message across, the Daily Nexus is once again offering low prices on our special display ads. And what’s even more special — the ad will appear in your own writing!

So be creative!

Write, draw or stamp your message. Think about it, this could be just what your sweetheart is waiting for!

Stop by the Nexus Ad Office TODAY!

Ads will appear in the Friday, Feb. 12 issue

DEADLINE is Wednesday, Feb. 10 at NOON

*Prices for personal ads only, no commercial advertisements allowed.

Daily Nexus — Room 1041 Under Storke Tower